

Edmonton R User Group

Meetup - May 22, 2023

Last Thursday of every month

We're an online and in-person R-enthusiast group hosting live speaking events on a range of topics, from data wrangling to visualization and Shiny.

Learn R, hone your skills, network, or just stay up-to-date.
All skill levels are welcome!

Edmonton is located on Treaty 6 territory

a traditional gathering place for diverse Indigenous peoples whose histories, languages, and cultures continue to influence our community.

Our sponsors

Bayne Lab, UofA

Your logo here

Introductions

Your name?

How do you use R?

Let us know if you are hiring candidates with R skills!

Next meetups:

June 22

in person, on a some nice patio

Summer break

Return back in September

Edmonton R User Group

Futureverse

A Unifying Parallelization Framework in R for Everyone
by Henrik Bengtsson

Joins us on May 22, 2023 @ 6 pm MT

About Henrik

Henrik has a MSc in Computer Science and a PhD in Mathematical Statistics

Associate professor at the Department of Epidemiology & Biostatistics, at University of California San Francisco (UCSF) and affiliated with the UCSF Helen Diller Family Comprehensive Cancer Center

Member of the R Foundation

Author of the future R package and many related and unrelated R packages